

Ads Present	The Play Store listing notes "Contains ads" — even on free tier. This is a common complaint in sports apps and reduces perceived quality.	"No ads on any plan" is a powerful differentiator to advertise

4. Master Task List: How to Outperform BenchApp

The following tasks are organized by category and prioritized. Complete Critical tasks first, then High, then Medium.

4.1 Website — Homepage & Messaging

#	Task	Priority	Category
1	Write a sport-agnostic hero headline BenchApp leads with hockey. If you serve all sports, your hero should reflect that. Example: "The easiest way to manage any sports team — all in one app."	● Critical	Messaging
2	Add a video demo or animated product walkthrough BenchApp has no video demo. A 60-90 second product walkthrough embedded on your homepage will dramatically improve conversion for first-time visitors.	● Critical	Conversion
3	Add verified social proof with numbers Display your user/team count prominently. Even if smaller than BenchApp's 60k, showing growth signals trust. Use a counter animation.	● High	Trust
4	Add a 3-step "How It Works" visual section BenchApp does this well (Create > Track > Fill). Mirror this pattern with your own branding and steps. Make it visual, not just text.	● High	Clarity
5	Add app store download buttons above the fold BenchApp places download links only in the footer and /download page. Put iOS and Google Play badges prominently on your hero section.	● High	Conversion
6	Add a live testimonials section with names, photos, and team names BenchApp uses testimonials but they appear generic (no photos visible in text content). Include real names, team names, and photos for credibility.	● High	Trust
7	Build a sports-specific landing page strategy	● Medium	SEO

	Create individual pages for each sport you support (e.g., /hockey, /soccer, /baseball). Each page targets sport-specific search terms.
8	Build segment-specific landing pages Follow BenchApp's model: create /for-youth-teams, /for-adult-leagues, /for-varsity pages. These capture long-tail search traffic.	● Medium	SEO

4.2 Website — Pricing Page

#	Task	Priority	Category
1	Offer a clearly stated free tier BenchApp's free tier is their #1 acquisition tool. You must match this or offer a generous free trial (at minimum 30 days) to compete.	● Critical	Pricing
2	Add an annual billing option with a discount BenchApp shows no annual option. Offering 20% off annual plans increases LTV and reduces churn. Show the per-month cost when billed annually.	● High	Revenue
3	Build a full feature comparison table on the pricing page BenchApp does this well. Match it. Your table should also include a column for BenchApp (competitors do this) to highlight where you win.	● High	Conversion
4	Add social proof directly on the pricing page Place 2-3 short testimonials on the pricing page specifically referencing value/price. This reduces hesitation at the moment of decision.	● High	Conversion
5	Add a "Money Back" or "Cancel Anytime" callout BenchApp highlights "No credit card required" and easy cancellation. Mirror this explicitly to remove signup friction.	● Medium	Trust

4.3 Website — About / Brand Credibility

#	Task	Priority	Category
1	Write a compelling founder story	● High	Brand
